Fire Chief Asks New Apparatus For Vols

Murphy's Annual Report Also Requests Consideration of Alarm System; Fire Loss in '48 Is Given as $28,505, With $1,479,895 in New Construction

Replacement of apparatus in volunteer fire companies and consideration of the worn mechanism of the fire-bell system are asked by Fire Chief Murphy in his annual report to the board of fire commissioners last night.

The report shows a fire loss in the city of $28,505.43 during 1948 and placed the estimated cost of new construction at $1,479,895.50 and a total of $676,950 in insurance carried on buildings and contents involved in fires here during the year.

The fire loss is $2,546.52 over that of 1947 and the increase in estimated new construction was $176,488.50 over the previous year. Permits for buildings, additions and alterations totaled 611.

The chief said in the report: "I recommend that the apparatus now in use in the volunteer companies be replaced. This could be done on a yearly budget plan. Under such a plan, all our equipment will be made safe and efficient."

Asks Repair of Stations

Recommended also was the repair of fire houses, which, the report said, "have been neglected for years. Some of the buildings are in very poor condition."

On the bell system, the chief said: "The large audible bells on the several fire houses have been in service since 1896. The mechanism on some of the bells is worn and most impossible to keep in adjustment. New parts are out of production. Replacement of the bells should be given some thought because it is necessary that we maintain the audible signal."

Will Change Cables
Elimination of the Broadway crossing, said the report, "will create additional expense for the fire department. The fire alarm underground cable will have to be removed and relocated. Before construction starts, an overhead cable will have to be run on poles to route the circuits to keep the system in operation."

The chief said he was "pleased to report that the building code committee appointed by the Common Council, has been active in its work. The code is being compiled. When the compilation is finished, it will then be submitted to the committee for approval, and before the final printing, the public will have the opportunity to review the proposed code. Preparing a building code is no easy task. It requires much research work and careful study by the person compiling it."

The report also noted that "The committee on nursing homes is active in their work of preparing an ordinance for regulating the nursing homes."

Three Places of Equipment

The chief listed three places of modern equipment placed in service during the past year; a 750 G.P.M. Mack pumper at Wiltwyck station; a 500 G.P.M. White Engine with Sanford equipment at H. Wicks Engine Company; and an 85-foot aerial truck at the Central station.

The report said, however, that delivery of the 85-foot aerial for Wiltwyck station is not expected until sometime during 1950.

The old LaFrance engine was "rebuilt by our mechanic, using parts off the old aerial truck tractor and the pump off the pumper that was wrecked in an accident at the Broadway crossing. Replacing the old equipment has brought the department up to a high standard of efficiency," but, the report added: "We still have the volunteer companies who are operating old and out-moded apparatus."

522 Alarms in Year

The statistical part of the report showed that the department had 522 alarms during 1948.

A. P. Survey Shows 97 Per Cent Decrease In Seven Staple Foods From 1948 Level

(By The Associated Press)
The cost of seven staple food items in 13 cities across the nation has dropped an average of 9.7 per cent from the level of a year ago, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Women's cotton house dresses are down an average of 24.5 per cent and their nylon stockings are 15.3 per cent under the retail prices of a year ago.

The men are paying about 7.5 per cent less for shirts, but men's and women's shoes and men's suits cost about the same as they did in January, 1948.

Those are overall figures for the entire list of items in all 13 cities. The residents of San Francisco weren't quite that lucky. The price of food items checked there showed an overall increase of about one-half of one per cent. And a quart of milk was the

Inclemency Is Plentiful Across U.S.

California and Arizona Deserts Get Snow; Floods Imperil Many in Illinois

Cold Is Continuing
Attempt to Feed Stock in Plains States Goes on by Planes

(By The Associated Press)
There was lots of bad and damaging weather across the nation today.

Snow, sleet and rain pelted wide areas from the Atlantic coastal areas to southern California's mountain and desert country.

Sub-zero temperatures continued in the western plains and Rocky Mountain regions but the bitter cold did not cause any let-up in the fight to save the thousands of snowbound livestock.

Hundreds of persons in southern Illinois were driven from their homes by flood waters. Further evacuations were indicated as rain fell throughout the Mississippi river valley. Many highways were closed.

Winds of near gale velocity and driving snow hit the mountain and desert regions of southern California and in Arizona and Nevada today. Scores of persons were marooned at winter resorts. There were new threats of further loss of livestock. Some highways were blocked and schools in some communities were closed.

Temperatures dropped to freezing in the coastal lowlands and citrus orchards. Four inches of snow fell in Las Vegas, Nev., in Nevada today. Many tourists were stranded. Planes were grounded and trains were running three to four hours late.

Freezing rain and sleet which covered an extensive area was described by the U. S. Weather Bureau as the "dirtiest weather." The wet belt, which in many sections brought glazing conditions, stretched from Dallas, Tex., to Chicago by way of St. Louis and eastward through Detroit to the Appalachians.

More rain fell in the flooded portions of southern Illinois and throughout Indiana, Kentucky.

Snow Will Give Several Benefits To Western States

Denver, Jan. 26 (AP)—The oceans of snow over the western United States are filled with something besides misery. The beneficial payoff comes when the icy flakes start melting.

Farmers are the principal beneficiaries. They'll be the prime beneficiaries when the snow melts, flows into streams and nourishes the far-flung plains.

Federal officials agreed today the heavy snowpack from January's blizzards in the mountains assures adequate irrigation water. And that's the life blood of many of the west's rich farming areas.

Dry land farming may be similarly benefited. However, wind swept snow spots clear while drifting the snow against obstructions on the prairies. The snow-barren spots may be lacking in soil moisture when spring comes.

Excellent water supplies—which the current storms promise—would insure strong growth of prairie grasses and farm crops.

Along with adequate irrigation supplies for the west's farming valleys, the storms assure water this summer for hydroelectric plants. They supply many of the west's greatest industrial centers.

Albany Water Main Breaks; Serious Hazard Is Created

Incident Called Worst in History of City; Thousands Minus Breakfasts

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—More than half of Albany was cut off from its water supply today when a break occurred in a 36-inch main.

The water famine created a serious fire hazard.

Arnold Miller, deputy commissioner of public works, called the break the worst in the history of this capital city of 140,000. The western section, virtually all residential, was principally affected.

The break occurred shortly after midnight in the east iron main leading from Albany's reservoir at nearby Loudonville into Albany. It was found in a joint 10 feet under an open field.

Thousands of persons arose to find their homes without water. They were forced to pass up washing, shaving, teeth-cleaning—and coffee.

Downtown restaurants, which had water, were crowded.

Deputy Commissioner Miller said his emergency crew has opened a few auxiliary (side) mains of 6 to 20 inches, thereby providing some water for the famined area.

Downtown restaurants, which had water, were crowded.

Deputy Commissioner Miller said his emergency crew has opened a few auxiliary (side) mains of 6 to 20 inches, thereby providing some water for the famined area.

There was only one fire in Albany during the early morning—a small one in a structure at 777 Livingston avenue.

Firemen were reported unofficially to have "booby-trapped" water from a fire district adjoining the city, and close to the fire.

Miller said he could not estimate when the break would be repaired, but he hoped to have service restored by noon.

Cause of the break was not officially determined, but it was reported caulking became loose.

Albany Hospital, the city's largest, was without water for about five hours until partial service was restored about 5:30 a. m.

Its outlying buildings, however, still were without tap water at 8 a. m., and were getting it by truck, pressure in the main building was at a "minimum," a spokesman said.

St. Peter's Hospital reported it was out of early this morning and had to resort to water from an emergency 20,000-gallon tank on the roof.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Assemblyman Wheeler Milne introduced a bill today to boost state aid for public schools by $60,000,000 above a $41,600,000 increase mandated by law. The Canastota Republican, co-author of the unsuccessful Young-Milne Bill last year, which would have increased aid by $103,000,000, said his new measure was based on a study made by the state educational conference board of New York city.

Red Bosses In 2 Nations Ask 'Peace'

France and Italy Hear Orders From Russia to Join Soviets' New 'Peace Front'

No Action Taken
Talk Alone Signifies Latest Propaganda From Soviets

Rome, Jan. 26 (AP)—Communist leaders of France and Italy told their 5,000,000 followers last night to join in a huge Russian-bossed "peace front."

Members of the two largest Red parties outside Russia were ordered to throw "all their force" against "propaganda of hate and calumny, warlike preparations and policies of oppression."

At the same time, western Germany's No. 1 Communist called for "better relations" between the United States and Russia.

These moves were the latest developments in Russia's so-called "peace offensive," picturing communists as champions of peace and their opponents as warlike aggressors.

They followed shortly after Moscow's announcement that the Soviet and her eastern European satellites had been linked in an "economic council of mutual assistance" to counter the European recovery program.

But there still has been nothing but talk in the new Russian propaganda line. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson has called on the Reds to prove that they mean what they say. There has been no direct response.

The call for a "peace front" was announced by the Italian Communist party after a conference with Marcel Cachin, veteran French Communist leader.

A communique ordered French and Italian Reds to "fulfill their tasks of fighters of the international front which, under the leadership of the great Soviet Union, is checking the forces of oppression and war."

The communique described Cachin as a "peace messenger." Cachin and Italian Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti have made speeches the latest last Sunday, in which they declared Russia wants peace.

But both also coupled their desire for peace with strong attacks on the United States which they said was preparing for war.

Last night's communique quoted Cachin as saying: "England and Italian Communists have 'an essential function in western Europe—to defend peace and assure an effective united Europe against all attempts at division and foreign interference.'"

The other development in the Kremlin's drive to convince the non-Communist world it can get along with Russia showed up at Frankfurt, Germany today.

Max Reinhardt, eastern Germany's top Communist, called for "better relations" between the United States and Russia.

Reinhardt said "there are many people around President Truman who would like to re-establish sensible relations with Moscow."

Paid for 'Sitting'
Mobile, Ala., Jan. 26 (AP)—A 29-year-old wife charged with murdering her husband told detectives she was paid $6 a week to baby sit for the other woman.

Mrs. John J. Foster was booked at city hall on a murder charge after her husband, a 39-year-old telephone worker, was found shot to death in the kitchen of their suburban home last night.

Detectives Clarence Barclay and Fred Prine said Mrs. Foster told them that at her husband's insistence she acted as baby sitter for the woman with whom she accused him of associating.

"Other woman" had two children of her own.

Unique Court Order Aims To Rehabilitate Woman, 21

Los Angeles, Jan. 26 (AP)—An expectant mother who killed one of her three previous children stands stripped today of the rights of motherhood under an unprecedented sterilization-adoption court order.

She agreed to it. In fact, Mrs. Gergette Brucks, 21, and her attorney, Walter Anderson, voluntarily proposed to Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose that she be sterilized after the expected baby's birth in April and that this child and another be given for adoption.

Judge Ambrose said he put the suggestions in the form of a court order yesterday although he had never heard of such an order in the nation's legal history. California law does not cover such a case.

Mrs. Brucks' tragedy of recurring motherhood as a teen age girl reads like this: She married Edmond Brucks, a sailor, in San Francisco and they separated in December, 1945. She

Troopers Arrest 73 In Marlborough Raid

Excelsiors Will Get Fire Truck
Commissioners Decide to Send Rebuilt Engine Uptown

Excelsior Hose Company, Hurley avenue, will get the rebuilt fire engine, which has been used as an emergency spare unit at Central station, the Board of Fire Commissioners decided last night.

The board acted on the petition of 12th Ward Alderman James E. Martin, who had written a letter to the officials, and who appeared at the session last night to stress the need of the pump in the uptown area.

Another resolution introduced at a recent Common Council session by the alderman and forwarded to the fire board, was given consideration. It asked for installation of a fire alarm box on Murphy street, and the board said it would make a survey on the proposal.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said today that he was uncertain as to when the rebuilt pump engine would be placed in the Excelsior engine house, but indicated that it would probably be sometime next month.

Equipment, Cash Seized; $1,240 in Fines Is Collected

Swooping down on an elaborate protected building on the Vetto Sacco Farm on Ridge road, Marlborough, a dozen state police under command of Capt. H. A. Gay and Lieutenant John Lawson, early this morning arrested 73 persons on charges of violating the state gambling laws or disorderly conduct.

Troopers called the premises "the most elaborate gambling layout ever seized in this part of the Hudson Valley."

All of the defendants were taken before Justice of the Peace Fred Woolsey where fines of from $30 to $150 were imposed.

Two men, Frank Thomas Majuri, 40, of 39 Loomis street, Elizabeth, N. J., and Anthony Angelo, 38, of 412 Sussex street, Harrison, N. J., were charged with being common gamblers and fines of $150 each were imposed and paid.

Majuri and Angelo were held at the Highland state police barracks until a late hour this morning for questioning by Highland state police and Elizabeth, N. J., police officers regarding a homicide in Elizabeth, N. J. The nature of the homicide was not divulged. The Communists.

The government's five man peace delegation was expected to hold a conference late today. They were to study the Communist radio reply to their peace negotiation request. Members said they had no contact with the Reds other than the radio report.

U. S. Office Is Awaiting Instructions From Washington Whether to Follow

New Setup Made
South China Defense Organization to Be Led by Chiang

Nanking, Jan. 26 (AP)—The government will move to Canton immediately.

The Chinese foreign office today formerly notified foreign embassies and legations of the decision. A spokesman said all government offices here would be closed by Feb. 3 and reopened in Canton by Feb. 5.

Some embassies planned to follow. The United States embassy awaited instructions from Washington. Others are expected to follow the U. S. lead, except the Russian, whose attitude is unknown.

The announcement came as Nanking city councilmen moved for a separate peace for the city. Councilmen voted to send a delegation to the Communists across the Yangtze River if National peace efforts fail.

One newspaper said Acting President Li Tsung-jen had given the council his provisional approval of their plan.

There were reports that both Nanking and Shanghai would be surrendered to the Communists without a fight if peace talks on a national level collapsed.

The new reports said a South China defense organization had been set up. Responsible sources said it would be led by Chiang Kai-shek, now in retirement in Fongshan, his ancestral home in the south.

Hundreds of political prisoners were released from Nanking's metropolitan prison late in the day.

Highly placed sources said the government planned to abandon the whole Yangtze valley and set up defense lines further south if peace talks with the Communists fail. Both sides have said they were willing to talk peace—on Red terms.

These sources said if the Communist peace price proves too high, government troops would try to hold this line.

From a seacoast anchor at Hangchow, below Shanghai, southwestward along the Chien-tang River to Nanchang thence northward to Wuchang on the Yangtze River.

That would seek to save for Nationalist China its important rice bowl.

Should Li's peace efforts fail, these sources said, it was certain that Chiang Kai-shek would resume his leadership from headquarters in Canton.

It would be a continuation of the civil war.

The city council peace action, patterned after that of Peiping, which went over to the Reds on Saturday in a separate peace, faced difficulties. The Nationalist armies and government would have to withdraw from the capital to permit municipal authorities to negotiate its surrender with the Communists.

The government's five man peace delegation was expected to hold a conference late today. They were to study the Communist radio reply to their peace negotiation request. Members said they had no contact with the Reds other than the radio report.

talks would be held in Peiping as soon as the ancient city "was completely liberated." And it emphasized the Red list of "war criminals," headed by Chiang Kai-shek, the retired president, was still incomplete.

All negotiations, the radio said, must be based on the terms laid down by Red leader Mao Tse-tung.

Among them was abolition of the new constitution and the Kuomintang government, trial of war criminals, confiscation of "bureaucratic" capital and the cancellation of treaties with the United States and other western powers.

Blindness Is Choice

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—A young couple, asked to choose between probable death or blindness for their two children, have decided blindness is better. As a result, surgeons yesterday removed both eyes of 11-month-old Michael Goldstein and one eye from his 2½-year-old sister, Karen. Both were reported doing "very nicely" today. Embryos of the Presbyterian Hospital's Institute of Ophthalmology said Michael was afflicted with a cancerous eye condition called retinoblastoma. They hope X-ray treatment will prevent spread of the same disease to Karen's other eye.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

Bay Minette, Ala., (AP)—Way-faring preachers have saved many souls. But only one I ever heard of saved a weekly newspaper.

He saved it for a friend of mine, Jimmy Faulkner, publisher of The Baldwin Times. And today when Jimmy talks about the good Samaritan to his Sunday school class, the old Bible tale has a special meaning to him.

It's quite a story. And Jimmy is quite a story, too. At 20 he was one of the youngest weekly publishers in the country. He was also at 23, as head of the Alabama Press Association, probably the youngest ever to head a state press group. At 21 he was reported the youngest mayor in America.

When the war came along Jimmy was in a position to grab for something easy. But he volunteered as a private in the air corps and became a B-25 bomber pilot instructor.

Now at 32 he is a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and a rising figure in Alabama politics.

Jimmy is a symbol of the new tumult in the South. He thinks the excitement over the race issue is less important to the future welfare of the section than the permanent educational and economic improvement of its people—black as well as white. And he thinks conditions are improving rapidly.

When I first knew Jimmy we were roommates together back at the boarding house of Mrs. E. E. Tydings in Columbia, Mo. Jimmy had come to the University of Missouri because it had the oldest and one of the best journalism schools in the land, and his own state at that time had none. Now it does have.

He earned his way by hopping tables and wiping dishes at the boarding house and working in the school library. But when Jimmy had his education he didn't stay away from home—as so many southern boys did. He came back home to the state of his heart.

Owed $500 to University
He was 20 years old. He owed $500 to the University of Missouri and he couldn't find a job. Then he heard the Weekly Baldwin County Times was for sale here. His widowed mother volunteered to mortgage her home to raise the down payment. He bought the paper. But it was run down. To improve it more money had to be borrowed.

"I owed more than $12,000 before I was 21," Jimmy recalled. "The mortgages were falling due, and I had no money to tide me over."

It was about this time a traveling preacher drove into town in a battered car to hold a revival. He came into Jimmy's office to ask for a small news story about the revival. He was tired and his suit had wrinkles. He even looked hungry. And Jimmy invited him over to his house for breakfast.

That was the only time he saw the preacher. But some weeks later he received a letter from him saying:

"I am impressed with what you are trying to do in your town, and it occurred to me you might need some money."

Answered Letter
Recalling the meager appearance of the minister, Jimmy didn't think the man was in a position to help. But when he answered and said he was in a tight spot, back came a check for $1,000. Later he sent another check for $1,000.

"Without his help I would have lost my newspaper," said Jimmy. "Yet I met this man only once, and he didn't ask for security of any kind. He was the angel in my life."

Those lean years are past now. Jimmy repaid the stranger—with interest. But it taught him this lifelong lesson:

"Kindness begets kindness. There is no excuse for being on this earth unless we help our fellow man. And there is no excuse for a newspaper unless it helps to make its community better."

And Jimmy does try to live up to the stranger's example. "You only made one mistake," I told him. "You should have invited the man to dinner instead of breakfast. Then you could

Pomeroy Denies Knowing of Bill

Assemblyman Robert W. Pomeroy, of Dutchess county, said Tuesday that he knew of no bill in the state Legislature asking authorization of bridge authority funds for dredging of the Hudson river near the site of the proposed Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge.

The Poughkeepsie New Yorker said Tuesday that Pomeroy said he did not expect to introduce any legislation which would authorize use of bridge authority funds for dredging, and that he knew of no other such bill.

David E. Lehman, bridge designer, said the newspaper "said last week consideration was being given to use of authority funds to dredge the Hudson north of the site of the proposed Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge."

The paper said that Pomeroy, asked if he favored use of authority funds to dredge the river, replied:

"Such a proposition is not in accordance with the views I expressed before election. I do not expect to include any such proposition in any bridge legislation that I introduce."

In the 1948 election campaign, Mr. Pomeroy said he favored diversion of bridge tolls for building bridge approaches in Poughkeepsie.

At that time the assemblyman said he did not favor use of tolls from the Mid-Hudson bridge to construct other bridges or river crossings.

Senator Hatfield has insisted that he had no knowledge of proposals to use bridge funds for river dredging, preliminary to construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. He did concede, however, that bridge funds could not be used for dredging without authorization from the Legislature.

Case on Damages Of Dam Continues

An action brought by Irene Mirring of Ulsterville against Edward Stevens, contractor, to recover damages for loss of a dam which he had built on the plaintiff's premises at Ulsterville, was continued in Supreme Court today.

Plaintiff alleges the dam was not properly constructed and high water washed it out. Stevens was the first witness called by the defense when court opened this morning. He testified he had been called to the Mirring property in August, 1946, to look over site and had later submitted figures on the cost. Stevens said he had been told the spot where the dam was desired and had submitted a figure based on certain measurements indicated in a sketch he prepared, but said he had told Mirring there would be an additional cost if additional footing were desired. He also gave a figure on repairs to bridge abutment and for construction of a new bridge.

Jurors not on the case on trial were excused until Monday, February 7, at 10 o'clock when Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth will resume the term.

No. 153, Kenneth Fleck against Joseph Gelschalt and another, negligence, was announced set for Charles C. Gaffney for plaintiff and David Tepp for defendant.

$100,000 Blaze Destroys Factory

Hudson, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—A $100,000 fire today destroyed the Foster Refrigerator Corp. plant. Two firemen were injured and a third suffered from smoke.

Fire Chief William A. Moore, who estimated the damage at about $100,000, said the fire was caused by a defective oil burner in the one-story concrete block building.

A watchman at a neighboring plant reported the fire at 4:45 a. m. All six of the city's volunteer fire companies, responded but were able to save nothing.

Kieran George Jostlin suffered a broken finger when it was shut in a fire truck door. Fireman James Merritt suffered frost bites of both feet. A. H. Curran was overcome by smoke. The plant, which employed approximately 40 persons, formerly was the Evans brewery.

State's '49 Budget May Be $915,000,000

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Legislative sources predicted today that Governor Dewey's budget would approximate $915,000,000.

They revised upward previous estimates in the light of Dewey's proposal for an overall boost in state aid for education this year of $100,000,000.

Of the total, however, $41,600,000 is mandated by the 1948 Feinberg law because of increased student enrollments. Above the mandated sum, Dewey proposed $400,000,000 more in aid to common schools. He also recommended $15,500,000 for higher education—to be used principally for construction and expansion costs.

Legislative sources said the 1949-50 fiscal year to the legislature next Tuesday. He has said he would recommend financing it on a pay-as-you-go basis.

About 300 Attend

year's exhibits is the appearance of five new types of machines for spraying, including wet dusters and dust sprayers. Also exhibited are apple grading equipment, new types of consumer packages, new insecticides, refrigerator equipment, seeds, fertilizers, nursery stock, honey, compressed air pumps, lightning rod protection, tractors, snow pushers, garden cultivators and picking equipment.

Among the talks this morning was one by Donald F. Green, Chazy, who reported on tests made in the use of a helicopter to control scab. These tests were made in Champlain Valley in 1948 and proved not only effective but also inexpensive, he said.

Savings Experienced

Because the helicopter makes possible better distribution of spray and is much faster than ground methods, savings are experienced in labor and materials which offset the greater expense of the use of the machine, Green said.

One set of figures quoted by Green showed that to spray one acre by helicopter cost $3.70 compared with $6 by ground methods. These figures were broken down to include $1.10 labor, $3.10 materials and $2.50 for the machine use by the air method, compared with $3.50 labor, $3 materials and $1.10 machine use by ground methods.

Limitations of the helicopter method include the need for better air-ground communication and that only trained personnel be permitted to load the helicopter, he said. He pointed out that last summer at Champlain valley one man was killed when he attempted to aid in loading the helicopter even though he had been warned to keep away from the rotor blades.

Impressions of new fungicides in 1948 were given by Professor Henry W. Thurston, Jr., State College, Pa. He urged farmers not to be too quick to condemn experiment station workers for being too conservative and too slow to change recommendations when a new material shows promise.

"The truth is that it takes about 10 years to develop a new material after it is known to be good. The trick is to find out just what it is good for, where and under what conditions it works best and how it can be fitted into established practices without upsetting the apple cart somewhere along the line," he said.

Other talks this morning included those by James M. Hamilton, Geneva; D. H. Palmer, Poughkeepsie; A. B. Burrell, Ithaca, and W. D. Mills, Ithaca. All were on the general subject of fungicides.

Early afternoon programs included a discussion of a plan used by the state of Michigan for raising funds for promotion of apple use. There, there is an assessment of one cent per bushel or two cents per hundredweight, collect on all apples except those used in manufacture of fresh cider or vinegar. Minard Farley, Jr., secretary of the Michigan State Apple Commission explained. All funds raised are specifically provided for advertising and research, he said.

L. W. Marvin, secretary of the New York and New England Apple Institute, outlined a nine-point program of promotion for the Northeast.

A panel discussion on marketing was scheduled for 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and at 8 o'clock tonight a forum on improving the fruit industry in the Hudson Valley will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

State May Run Day Line Boats

New York state will consider a proposal to operate the Hudson River Day Line, the Poughkeepsie New Yorker said Tuesday.

Operation of the line would be under terms of a bill introduced in the state Legislature by Assemblyman William E. Clancy (D-Brooklyn), and the measure, if passed will order the state conservation commissioner and superintendent of public works to study the proposal.

The president of the line, Alfred V. S. Olcott, who announced late last year that the line would be abandoned, said last week that he hoped some sort of service would be made available this year.

The state has been in the ferry business for two years following resumption of service between Kingston and Rhinecliff in May, 1946 by the bridge authority. The Cornell Steamboat Co., said it was forced to abandon the service in December, 1942. It was out of service for three and a half years pending action by the state authority.

One of the oldest such services in the nation, it had maintained a schedule from August, 1752 until it was discontinued in 1942.

Axis Sally's Voice Identified by Nazi

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—A former Nazi radio official today identified the voice of Mildred E. Gillars as that of the speaker in "Axis Sally" broadcasts.

The testimony, by Hans von Richter, was in preparation for playing to a U. S. district court jury numerous recordings of those broadcasts. The government relies heavily on the contents of the program to back up the treason charge on which Miss Gillars is on trial.

"Von Richter, 38, was asked specifically whether he had seen Miss Gillars, on trial for treason, speaking into a microphone.

"Yes, many times," he said.

Von Richter was handed approximately 20 recordings of German broadcasts. He said he had heard them replayed in this court and described them as from "Midge at the Mike," "Home, Sweet Home," and others of the "Axis Sally" radio programs.

He then was asked by John M. Kelley Jr., the chief prosecutor, whether he recognized any voices in listening to recordings of the "Axis Sally" programs. He said he did.

"Was any one voice common to each record?" Kelley asked.

"Yes," he replied.

"Which was that?"

"It was Miss Gillars,"

Inge Sylvia Dorman, announcer for some "Axis Sally" programs, was also on call to testify today.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp. common stock raced ahead of the stock market after a delayed start today.

Steel failed to appear on the ticker tape until 35 minutes after the opening gong. The initial sale of 15,000 shares was made at a gain of 3 1/2 points at 76 1/2 although this advance was later toned down to around 3.

The balance of the market, and notably the steel group, tried to get ahead but couldn't quite make the grade. Steels held, their ground better than most other groups.

Demand for big steel was touched off by the news, which came out after the close yesterday, of a special dividend, a stock split-up proposal, and the highest earnings in 1948 since 1929.

Holding on to gains running to around a point or so were Jones & Laughlin, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Inland Steel, American Telephone & Electric Power & Light, Air Reduction, Westinghouse Electric, Philip Morris, Radio Corp., American Tobacco (helped by an extra dividend), and Twentieth Century-Fox.

On the losing side were Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Schenley, Consolidated Natural Gas, American Can, Dow Chemical, DuPont, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Standard Oil (N. J.), Gulf Oil, Texas Co., and Paramount Pictures.

Corporate bonds were selectively higher. U. S. Governments continued to display firmness in over-the-counter dealings.

Trimmed a bit were American Light, Barmid Steel, Cities Service, International Petroleum, Kaiser-Frazer, and U. S. Radiator.

Let Me Tell You

If you want to spend your money
And you don't know how to do it,
Let me tell you.

If your pockets jangle jingle
And you're going 'round in circles
But you're just seemin' to drag,
For you want to help somebody
And you don't know what to do,
Let me tell you.

There's a big event a-brewin',
Do you know what folks are doin'?
Well, I'll tell you.

They're giving dollars, dimes and quarters
To help someone's sons and daughters.
What for? O.K. I'll tell you.

It's from folks they are crippled
And they can't walk or run;
They are lost to fun and pleasure,
Lie in bed from sun to sun.
Help these sufferers, why don't you?
Give them just the best you can.
How? I'll tell you.

Kind words and thoughts do cheer them.
But do these pay the bills?
NO—they do not.

If with insufficient funds
This work they have to carry on,
How can they?

If to the MARCH OF DIMES you give,
You'll all feel quite content,
Express your thoughts in money
For to them, 'tis Heaven sent.
If folks they are in luck
They'll need the best of care.
Of course, you know it.

So, if you know these things, My Friend,
Do, yes, do something about it.
It's YOU who can.

Freedom Train Is Started at Albany

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—New York State's Freedom Train starts its tour of the state today following ceremonies at Albany's Union Station.

The train, carrying 80 historical state documents, will head west toward Buffalo after making its first stop, for five days, at Schenectady.

The lighting of a "freedom torch" by Governor Dewey highlights the ceremonies (at 11:15 a. m.) in which clergymen of several faiths and representatives of the train's sponsors take part. A parade, including Dewey and an escort of 15 jeeps and 50 men of the 27th Infantry Division, New York National Guard, precedes the dedication.

The six-car train, for which the state legislature appropriated $50,000 last year, will travel along the New York's Central's main line to Buffalo during the winter months and then, in the spring, proceed through south central New York back to Albany. During the summer months, it will tour the northern section of the state and then, in the fall, go down the Hudson valley to New York city.

In addition to the Legislature's appropriation, the associated railroads of the state of New York have contributed approximately $650,000 for construction and operation of the train.

Members of the Society of Newspaper Editors and the State Publishers Association will head community committees to raise $200 a day to cover yard charges. Among the documents selected by historians and librarians for the train is a copy of one of the state's first labor laws, dated 1665.

The other, found in the vaults of the Town of North Hempstead, L. I., was issued by the Duke of York and detailed rules for the protection of servants and directed constables to admonish masters and dames guilty of tyrannical and cruel abuses of their servants.

Miss Edna M. Jackson, associate state librarian, was in charge of the assembling and preparing the documents for the train. She and members of the State Library's Manuscripts and History Division worked for a year sifting and collecting documents for the trip.

Engineers' Strike Averted in New York

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—A strike of engineers on the Hudson and Manhattan railroad was averted yesterday after issues in dispute were settled by all-day mediation.

The strike was scheduled for 4 a. m. today.

Federal Mediator Ross W. Fran said last night agreement was reached on all 30 points in dispute. Officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers confirmed the statement. They said the strike notice had been withdrawn.

Details of the issues and the settlement were not given.

About 170 members of the brotherhood threatened the strike because of what they regarded as improper handling of grievances and other matters.

A strike of engineers would have halted service on the railroad which carries about 200,000 riders daily between Manhattan and North Jersey points.

India Plans Census

New Delhi, India (AP)—Printing presses will soon start turning out the first of nearly 40 million forms to be used in the 1951 census. The census tentatively is scheduled to begin March 31, 1951. Preparations are being made on an estimate that the population will total about 340 millions. In 1941, six years before this subcontinent was partitioned, the population totaled 389 millions. Census officials estimate that 330 millions now live in India and about 80 millions in Pakistan.

Batter Up for Health

To help life March of Dimes in its campaign to stamp out infantile paralysis, chefs at Chicago's Ambassador East Hotel whipped up this 200-egg cake in the shape of a dime. They presented it to the youngsters in the polo ward at the Illinois Children's Hospital, where patient Eugene Messina, 4, samples it. Harold Nightlinger, assistant pastry chef for the hotel, does the cutting.

Port Ewen, N. Y.
January 23rd, 1949

Editor, The Freeman:

Like Edwin Hummel of Port Ewen, in his letter of Saturday, January 22nd, 1949, I have been watching the Freeman for any comments on the letter written by the Adult Discussion Group of the First Dutch Reformed Church on the trees of Kingston. And, like Mr. Hummel, I was disappointed in the lack of interest shown by Kingston folks.

Here's an aspect of the situation that has not been mentioned as yet. Kingston's south entrance is an unusual one. One enters the city by a steep hill that is arched by beautiful trees. For years, it was like climbing through a green tunnel, shot through with sunshine, for the sky was seldom seen through the thick foliage. And in the fall the archway flamed with color. In the winter the lacy branches made delicate patterns against the sky. There was no end to this lovely sight until one reached McEntee European odor of the politics of this cult, so close to the teachings of Harold Laski, of London, the "Apologist for Communism," as the New York Times confidently calls him.

We have a right to know why Acheson, an officer of the court, asked the House Committee on Un-American Activities to quit questioning Sam Carp, of Bridgeport, Conn., Motov's brother-in-law, and whether he frankly believes in selective enforcement of laws against crime. Carp said he was commissioned to spend either $200 million or $300 million among us at a rate-off of either two or three per cent. He never had to show his books or give straight answers.

The committee had suspicions of a widely scandalous paper in Bridgeport run by a thin, called Leigh Danenberg which had been the smearing agent of the Roosevelt administration for years. It was so low that even Carp, no fastidious puritan, said he wouldn't have it in his house lest his children see it. Carp, Danenberg and Lawrence Finkelstein, their lawyer, were closely associated. By coincidence, no doubt, the political tone of Danenberg's paper often echoed that of Communist publications, but decent Americans within its purview expressed themselves on political and moral issues only at the risk of black-guarding by this thing.

In September, 1945, when the committee called Carp to go to the bottom of Carp's mysterious financing with Russian money, a call came from the State Department, from "Acheson's office." The "spokesman" was afraid the street. Not many cities can boast of such an entrance to welcome visitors. Many cities and towns are entered through ugly industrial districts.

Now the arch is broken. The trees on the hill proper still exist although somewhat thinned out by the ravages of time. But they have lost their effectiveness for at the top of the hill is a bare and glaring space where several trees were lost in last summer's storms. Nothing seems to have been done about replacing these trees.

The same condition exists in other parts of the city. In the woods every tree that goes down is replaced by new growth. But Mother Nature is out of her element in the city. It is up to the people to take her place. If Kingston allows its trees to disappear the city will lose a lot of the beauty that attracts visitors and tempts them to stay. This would be a sad world indeed without trees.

JESSIE TORRENS

committee might cause an "international incident" by questioning Motov's brother-in-law, Motov was the Russian foreign minister, then in conference with James Byrnes, our secretary of state, and others in London.

Carp had been felched down with a whole batch of New York Communists including William Z. Foster, the present boss of the party, and Benjamin J. Davis, a Negro communist now on trial in New York.

Carp said he wasn't a Communist and knew nothing about the business of the New Deal's smear paper. The Roosevelt government already had signaled its favor by giving Danenberg and his wife, carte blanche to tour Europe, including Russia, as liaison agents. A special rule, nevertheless, excluded legitimate publishers of reputable American papers from all war zones because Roosevelt had so much to hide.

Of late, Danenberg lectures against restoration of the war power of the German Rühr for use against Russia.

The committee acquired an affidavit by Sam Carp in which he swore that one D. A. Rosoff, apparently an agent of the Soviet, loaned him $100,000 on unsecured notes and went back to Russia; that a Russian trading corporation called Nostorg loaned him $100,000 more. His tax returns never were investigated, thanks to the delicacy concerning Motov's feelings and perhaps Carp's and Danenberg's. The affidavit was signed in pencil, as history by "S. J. Keating, Int. Rev. agent."

Carp plainly was $200,000 ahead of Rosoff and Nostorg, aside from the $200 or $300 million. He was not registered as an agent of a foreign power. Native Americans were prosecuted for technical violations of the registration law in relations with the axis and Japan. Now Acheson goes back to the State Department, this time in full command.

BARBECUE CHEAPER CUTS OF MEAT

By GAYNOR MADDON

NEA Staff Writer

Barbecue sauce gives the cheap cut of meat fine flavor.

Barbecued Lamb Ribslets (Serves 4)

Two pounds lamb ribslets, cut in 2-inch pieces, ¼ cup Worcestershire sauce, ½ cup catsup, 2 tablespoons bottled thick meat sauce (optional), 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons horseradish, 2 cups boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt.

Place ribslets, fat side down, in a heated kettle; brown on all sides. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; cook tender over low heat—about 1½ hours. Skim off excess fat. If sauce is not so thick as desired, uncover, cook down a few minutes. There should be about 1 cup. Arrange ribslets on platter and pour sauce over them. Note: Breast of lamb may replace the ribslets.

Barbecued Frankfurters (Serves 4)

Two tablespoons fat, ½ cup minced onion, ¾ teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons granulated sugar, ¾ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 to 3 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 3 tablespoons catsup, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 4 frankfurters.

Melt fat, add onion and simmer until tender. Then add next 7 ingredients. Make a lengthwise slit 3 inches long through the center of each frankfurter. Arrange in a baking pan, slit side up, and pour sauce over all. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes, basting several times.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced bananas, ready-to-eat cereal, crisp bacon, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, jam, coffee, milk.

Want Clergyman Ousted For Soviet Group Tie

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The "outside activities" of his son have led to a move to oust the Rev. Dr. John Howard Melish as rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity, Brooklyn.

Lay officials of the church have asked the bishop of Long Island to request Melish's resignation because he will not remove his son, the Rev. William Howard Melish, as assistant rector.

The younger Melish is chairman of the National Council of Soviet-American Friendship, an organization listed by Attorney General Tom Clark as subversive.

It was disclosed yesterday that the vestry, in a meeting January 17, voted nine to one to seek the elder Melish's removal "in order to remove the cause of dissension in the church."

Melish, 74, has been rector for 44 years.

The action drew a blast from "The Churchman," unofficial Protestant Episcopal magazine.

NO HULLS

JOLLY DOG TIME

edited by Dr. Guy Emery Shipley. In an editorial, to appear in the forthcoming issue, the magazine terms the move "shocking" and "inexcusable."

The trouble between the clerical and lay leaders of the church came into the open last April, when the vestry condemned the younger Melish's "outside activities" as detrimental to the church.

At that time, the elder Melish argued that a "minister is entitled to put his political beliefs into practice."

Under church rules, a spokesman for the vestry said only the bishop can remove the rector.

Dr. Melish made no immediate comment. His son said, however, that they "reserve the right" to answer the vestry's statement later.

Minority Seeks To Have Condon Statute Repealed

Albany, Jan. 26 (AP)—Democratic legislative leaders took command today of a drive to repeal the Condon-Wadlin Law banning public employee strikes.

The minority leaders of the Senate and Assembly introduced a companion bill to repeal what they termed the "infamous" law. The act, which prohibits strikes by public employees under penalty of automatic dismissal, was passed in 1947 over strong opposition from organized labor.

In a statement issued with their bill, Senator Elmer F. Quinn of Manhattan and Assemblyman Irwin Steingut of Brooklyn declared that the anti-strike law "was never needed and is a blot on the good name of our state."

Four other New York city Democrats previously had filed bills for repeal, part of the Democratic program for the session. They were Senators Arthur Wachtel of the Bronx and Sidney A. Fine of Manhattan, and Assemblymen Bernard Austin and Philip J. Schupler, both of Brooklyn.

Quinn and Steingut also introduced a measure to set up grievance machinery for public employees. The sponsors said the bill would give public workers an opportunity to air grievances "without threat of instant dismissal."

A similar bill was submitted last week by Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican.

Two other bills affecting public employees were introduced by Senator Seymour Halpern, Queens Republican.

One would permit employees to retire at age 55. The other would set a minimum retirement pension of $1,200 a year.

In a statement, Halpern said some employees now receive a pension of less than $800 a year. "Their poverty is pitiful," he declared.

Bills introduced yesterday would:

Give cities the power to buy, process and sell milk and milk products at not less than actual cost except in connection with relief. (Senator Louis Bennett, D-Brooklyn.)

Prohibit use of an ambulance in New York city for transporting sick or injured persons unless it were manned by a doctor. (Senator Paul A. Fino, R-Bronx.)

Repeal the cigaret tax levied for payment of the veterans' bonus and impose instead an additional one and one-half per cent tax on net incomes of business corporations. (Senator Arthur Wachtel, D-Bronx.)

Steel Plans Tripling Common Stock Shares

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The management of United States Steel Corp., reporting the highest net income since 1929 and a peacetime record of shipments, plans to triple the number of its outstanding shares of common stock.

Some 280,000 persons own the stock of "big steel," averaging 52 shares each.

They learned yesterday that: (1) They will get their usual $1.25 dividend and a special $1 payment, first such extra since 1947, both payable March 10 to holders of record Feb. 4; and (2) If they approve a directors' proposal at their annual meeting May 2 they will have three shares in place of each share now held.

The directors, meeting here, reported U. S. steel's net income for 1948 was $129,552,421, slightly higher than the $127,098,148 earned in 1948 but far below the profits of 1929 or the World War I years. The latest total was equal to $11.99 a common share compared with $11.71 in the previous year.

"Big Steel" shipped an all-time record 5,467,696 net tons of steel products in the final quarter of 1948, while the 20,597,570 tons shipped during the year was a peacetime record exceeded only in 1942 and 1944.

Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board, told a news conference the corporation had seen "little—almost no—letup in demand for steel," a demand he believed would continue "for some months to come."

Steelmaking facilities of the company are operating this week at 100.5 per cent of rated capacity, he said.

The proposed three-for-one stock split would be the first in the company's history.

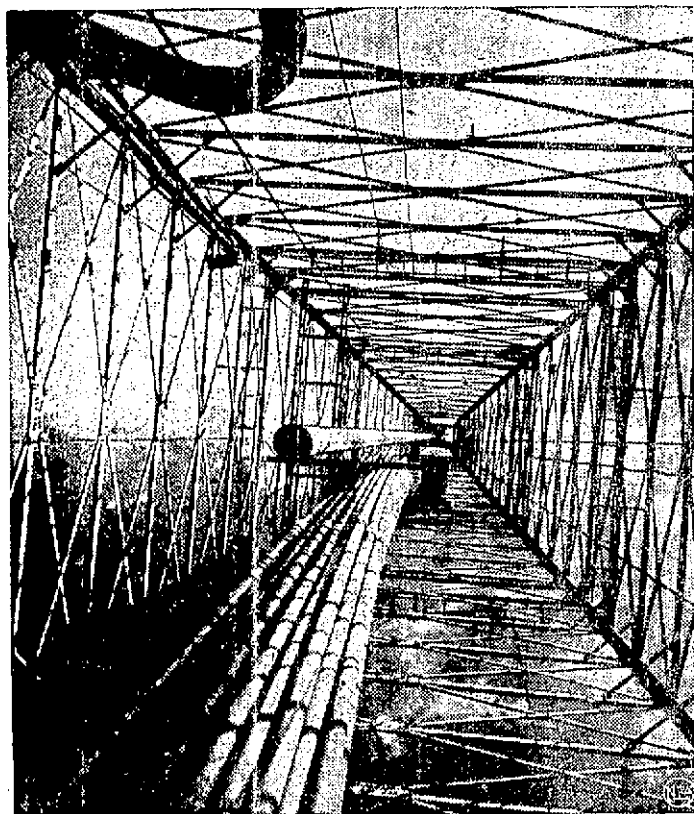

The split, which Olds said would permit broader ownership of the stock and provide greater marketability, would increase the number of common shares from the present 8,703,252 to 26,109,756.

The steel directors' actions and recommendations came after the close of the New York Stock Exchange yesterday. But in San Francisco where the stock was still being traded because of the difference in time zones, the shares closed three points higher.

Southern California's Calipatria county is situated 175 feet below sea level.

Two Monticello Men Are Arrested

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Three men, caught in a police trap in a Manhattan hotel after a jeweler became skeptical of a story about an "ill wife," were held on criminal charges today.

Police identified the three as Burton Halpern, 19, of (23 Cottage street) Monticello, N. Y.; Martin Pearl, 27, of (Prince street) Monticello, and Miles Leiter, 27, of the Bronx.

They were booked on charges of assault, robbery, grand larceny, and violations of the Sullivan (weapons) law yesterday after allegedly attacking Jack Jucker, 24, owner of a diamond company, as he entered their hotel room.

Police said Jucker related he received a telephone call from a man, saying his wife was ill and that he wanted Jucker to bring a selection of $1,000 diamonds to the hotel room for her to select one as a gift. Jucker became suspicious when he checked at the hotel desk, and learned no woman was registered in the room.

He notified police, who stationed themselves near the room. They said the three men grabbed Jucker, tied him up and gagged him as he entered.

Pearl and Leiter were quoted as saying later that they owned a poolroom in Monticello, and needed money to operate it.

Auto Output May Come In Competitive Way in 1949

Detroit, Jan. 26 (AP)—The battle for first place in auto output and sales could well get under way this year.

There is nothing to indicate Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth are catching up with demand, but there are other signs of major competitive planning.

Within a few weeks Chrysler will have its 1949 models on sale. At the same time it will disclose its new price tags. That will clear the way for increased competition in the lower price car field.

Plymouth may have no designs on first place in production and sales, but it does plan to try for a bigger slice of the market dominated by Chevrolet and Ford.

To aid in any drive it may make for greater sales volume, it has both long and short wheelbase models in its 1949 planning. The shorter unit has a wheelbase of 111 inches against 118 in the de luxe models.

This could be promoted as an economy model with only essential accessories, and at a price substantially lower than the regular models.

Chrysler hasn't disclosed that the price tag on the shorter model will be much lower. However, industry chroniclers can see no other purpose in the introduction of the 111-inch wheelbase car. Until Chrysler announces its new price schedules it will be impossible to determine which car maker will have the advantage in price tags.

Since the war the car buying public has given little heed to which producer offered the lowest priced car. The problem has been to get any kind of a car.

This situation will run out this year or next—and prices again will become real factors in determining buyer preference in the most popular price field. Right now the Chevrolet and Ford price schedules show little advantage for either maker.

Any price comparisons, of course, must take into consideration the fact all Chevrolets are six cylinder models, while Ford produces both sixes and eights. The Plymouths, too, are sixes.

Here's the way the factory retail prices of the Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth lowest priced models line up:

4-door sedan—1949, Chevrolet, $1,481; 1949, Ford Six, $1,473.50; 1948, Plymouth, $1,455.50.

2-door sedan—1949, Chevrolet, $1,434; 1949, Ford Six, $1,426; 1948, Plymouth, $1,397.50.

Club coupe—1949, Chevrolet, $1,439; 1949, Ford Six, $1,416.50; 1948, Plymouth, $1,424.

Business coupe—1949, Chevrolet, $1,380; 1949, Ford Six, $1,252; 1948, Plymouth, $1,360.75.

De luxe models:

4-door sedan—1949, Chevrolet, $1,560; 1949, Ford Six, $1,591.50; 1948, Plymouth, $1,544.25.

2-door sedan—1949, Chevrolet, $1,513; 1949, Ford Six, $1,539; 1948, Plymouth, $1,486.25.

Club coupe—1949, Chevrolet, $1,529; 1949, Ford Six, $1,528; 1948, Plymouth, $1,518.

Convertible—1949, Chevrolet, $1,875; 1949, Ford Six, $1,886; 1948, Plymouth, $1,872.

Of course you don't get your car at the price shown. The figures in each instance include dealer delivery and handling charge and federal excise tax of 7.5 per cent. But you have to add transportation charges from factory to dealer; state and local sales taxes, if any; license plates; any extra equipment you may get like radio, heater, chrome wheel rings and a lot of other items of that kind.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 12.—Meaning no disrespect to the lads at the American Embassy, as of right now our No. 1 ambassador of good will down here is a beery old bum whom the kids call Charlie Christmas.

Charlie is a fattish gentleman in the employ of a toy shop on 7th of September Street, and when I saw him yesterday afternoon he was wearing a red velvet coat trimmed with white rabbit fur, a beard of absorbent cotton, and a pointy hat with little brass bells.

"I didn't know the Curious believed in Santa Claus," I said to Paulo Elinhor, the Pan American public relations man, who was showing me through the shopping district.

"They do and they don't," said the airlines man, "but this Santa is something special, and during the past ten days he's done more for the good neighbor policy than all the speeches on the short wave radio."

"This looks like a good place for details," I said, steering the press man into the Atlantic, a cafe which features the coffee you eat with a spoon.

"You're supposed to be on vacation," grinned Paulo, "but I suppose I'd better tell you the story; otherwise you'll probably say bad things about our airline."

"About a year ago, a bum who was all belly and head turned up on the beach here, and by beach I don't mean the fashionable strip of sand along the bay; I'm talking about the dock district where the floaters from a hundred countries hang out. His name was Charlie, he originally hailed from Baltimore, and he had come from Manaus where he had been working on the Amazon boats."

"Shortly after his arrival, Charlie began bumming cruzeiros from the tourists and making his headquarters in a small park near the docks where he divided his time between sleeping and playing with the poor kids of the district. The Brazilian police—a lot more understanding in matters of this kind than your northern species—let him alone."

"That is, they let him alone until 5 a. m. on December 24th when a policeman heard a crash and ran around a corner in time to see a busted shop window and a bum who looked like Charlie running up the street with his arms full of toys."

"A few hours later they picked Charlie up in the park, he still had some of the toys in his pockets, and when he told the police he was from Baltimore they notified the American Embassy. One of your attaches sent for a Brazilian lawyer who had studied at New York University and told him to see to it that justice was done."

"After consulting with his unwashed client, the attorney requested that the hearing be held that afternoon, and at 4 when Charlie took the stand the magistrate went right to the point."

"Charles," he said, "you are charged with breaking a window and robbing a toy shop this morning. What have you to say for yourself?"

"Charles's lawyer rose, 'I respectfully ask that examination of my client be deferred, and that I be permitted to call the first witness.'"

"The first witness was a little girl named Maria Camargo, and she was hugging a doll that was a lot cleaner and better dressed than she was."

"Q. Who gave you the doll?"

"A. Charlie Christmas. He p-promised me . . . if I was a good girl."

"Q. Is Charlie related to you?"

"A. (shake of the head)"

"Q. What is he to you, then?"

"A. Charlie Christmas."

"The doll was introduced in evidence and marked 'Exhibit A.' Then Anna Abreu, aged 5½, took the stand, followed by Jose Costa, aged 4, and by the time several other tots were through testifying, there was quite a pile of stuff on the witness stand, including a petticoat, a stuffed onca and a string of beads that worked on batteries."

"Your Honor," Charlie's lawyer went on, "with the Court's indulgence, I would like to make a statement. My client comes from a country where there is a great institution called Santa Claus, and, having studied in the States, I can testify to the universal esteem in which this gentleman is held. It appears that when my client took up residence in the park some months ago, he met these children and told them the story of Santa Claus, and promised that if they were good and kind they would all receive gifts."

"As Christmas neared, however, he realized that the parents of the children were too poor to buy them gifts, and so, for the honor of America and the whole way of life cherished by our good neighbor to the north, he finally took what, to him, was the only possible course."

"I therefore beg the Court to take these circumstances into consideration and to set bail at a level which the friends of Charlie Christmas can afford."

"How much is that?" asked the Judge.

"By pooling their resources," said the lawyer, "the children have raised thirty-seven centavos," said the Judge.

"Christmas morning when the Court convened in special session, Charlie's lawyer went into a huddle with the owners of the toy shop and a few minutes later the Judge announced, 'After consultation with all parties, the following has been determined: The bailiff will return the toys to the children, and starting tomorrow morning the defendant will be employed at the toy shop in the capacity of Santa Claus.'"

"Cute story," I said to the airlines executive, "but aren't you taking me for a sleigh ride? As you tell it, this happened almost three weeks ago. How come Charlie Christmas is still cruising on the 12th of January?"

"Well," said Paulo, "at first they were only going to keep him until January 6th, the Day of the Wise Men when the presents are usually passed out in Rio, but by that time Charlie Christmas was such a hit with the kids that the store decided to make Santa Claus a year-round job."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Tricky False Card Beats This Contract

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Many tournament players around the country know the Roth twins, Claire Marie and Maria Claire. Their dad, Harry J. Roth, writes a bridge column for one of the Brooklyn papers and handles publicity at many tournaments.

As youngsters, the twins used to scamper around at tournaments, interfering with the play. Today they are students at Georgian Court College in Lakewood, N. J., and both of them are accomplished players. They still come to the tournaments, however, when they are in town, and collect the score cards for the scorers.

While collecting the score cards, they check the scores carefully. One of them pointed out today's hand to me, because only one pair in the room defeated the contract.

The opening lead of the queen of diamonds was won by declarer.

Two rounds of trumps were taken and a small spade led. South had to win two spade tricks to make his contract. If West played the five of spades, declarer would finesse dummy's nine-spot and knock out East's king. On the next round he would finesse the jack of spades.

But West did not permit that to happen. He hopped right up with the queen on the first spade lead, and declarer had to win with dummy's ace. He came back over to his hand and led another spade. West put on the five-spot. Now what would you do?

Would you figure that West had split his honors, the king-queen, or that he had made that tricky play? I think that most players would figure that West had split his honors, and would play the jack from dummy. East would kill this with the king, and when another spade was led, declarer would be down one.

This is a beautiful false-card play to put down in your book for future use.

F.D.R. Unfinished

Hyde Park, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—An unfinished portrait of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, for which he was sitting at the time of his fatal attack, has been placed on exhibition at the Franklin Delano Roosevelt library here.

Herman Kahn, director of the library, said the portrait, which has been shown only briefly heretofore, will remain on public exhibition for several months. The picture was lent by Mrs. Elizabeth Shoumatoff, for whom the President was posing at Warm Springs, Ga., when he collapsed.

She said she does not plan to finish the portrait. It shows Mr. Roosevelt's head in water colors, and the outline of his body sketched in pencil.

Fortune Tellers Reap Harvest as Salesmen of Hope

Berlin, Jan. 26 (AP)—Berlin is a bonanza for fortune tellers. They're getting rich by selling the public in this ruined city what it wants: Hope!

The hunger for a look into a pleasanter future has gripped all classes—dumpy hausfraus, elegant actresses, shabby professors, rich smugglers, skinny rubble-cleaners and fat politicians.

The fame of the sooth sayers spreads by word of mouth. It's rarely necessary to advertise. Prices for consultations usually start at 10 marks ($3) but those who can afford it wind up paying much more.

Astrologers are in the vanguard of those who claim to draw aside the veil of the future. Others rely on psychic trances, gypsy playing cards, and spiritualistic gimmicks.

One practitioner of what he says is the Indian system of yoga gets a line on coming events by contemplating his navel while sitting cross-legged on a hard mat.

He told a skeptical reporter the other day: "The navel is bound up with the past and with the future; it is the center point of life."

Numerous young Germans, not so skeptical, have become his disciples. His most positive prediction about 1949 is that it will bring an increase of food rations for Berliners.

Some astrologers admit it's difficult to cast a reliable horoscope for Berlin, because history is unsure of the exact hour and day of its birth in A.D. 1244. One, however, suggests the good-luck influence Venus may be felt this year, in contrast, to the difficulties raised by Saturn in the past.

Ursula von Kardos, who scorns astrological computations in favor of second sight, has come out with this forecast:

"In the first months of 1949, Berlin will have the usual, minor disturbances, but a great improvement will start in the summer. An event of great importance—thank heaven, no war—will occur then. Next winter will be much better. The allied airlift will continue, but with normal traffic. The Soviet blockade will be lifted at the beginning of 1950. Berlin is no sinking ship, as some say now."

The bulk of the fortune-telling trade is made up of people worn down by the hard realities of life and in search of a little cheer. But some are people anxious to learn the fate of relatives lost in the war. Others are embroiled in matrimonial disputes.

One Berlin newspaper set out recently to undermine the prosperity of fortune tellers.

Most Berlin newspapers, however, are content to let fortune tellers go undisturbed. Some editors argue that these alleged prophets of a brighter future must be given at least a little of what they preach. Otherwise they would have deserted this wrecked city and fled west of the Elbe.

Want Rules Changed

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored people yesterday called upon the Senate to amend its rules so as to prevent filibusters against civil rights legislation. At the same time, the N.A.A.C.P. sent telegrams to its some 1,600 local branches instructing them to urge their senators to support a plan that would enable the Senate to end a filibuster by a majority vote.

Fino Asks Amendment To Permit Lotteries

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—A legislator thinks revenues from state-operated lotteries could be used to help the blind, the aged, the indigent and state hospitals.

Republican Senator Paul A. Fino of the Bronx introduced a bill yesterday to amend the state constitution to permit the lotteries.

Fino said the bill "would easily raise hundreds of millions of dollars annually and would aid our state materially in discharging its proper obligations." He added: "Current taxes are high enough and new sources of revenue must be found."

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS
and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS. Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth—Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals
FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thonon in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results
WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it. Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry weighing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood.

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling GEO-MINERAL for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store," reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the drug-store shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

your blood, GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need.

Can't Collect for Care She Gave Daughter

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Ex-actress Kitty Gordon's $31,080 suit against millionaire J. Frederic Byers, once an "intimate friend" of her deceased daughter, was dismissed yesterday in State Supreme Court.

Justice Kenneth O'Brien, rejecting Miss Gordon's claim on Byers for repayment of money she said she spent caring for the daughter during an illness, declared:

"The claim of a mother for services rendered in the care of her own flesh and blood must be founded on something much more substantial than that presented here."

Byers, 67-year-old Pittsburgh millionaire admitted he had been "on terms of intimate friendship" with the daughter, Vera Beresford. But he denied Miss Gordon's claim that he had agreed to repay her for the daughter's care. Miss Beresford died in 1945.

Lions Enjoy Court Program Tuesday

Members of the Kingston Lions Club sat as a jury Tuesday noon to "decide" several unusual court cases of the past.

A panel of four local lawyers, Theodore Lee, Herman Gottfried, Hugh Elwyn and Francis Marlocci, presented several interesting and baffling cases taken from the court records, and asked the Lions Club members to vote on how they thought the judges decided in each case. After the vote was taken, the panel announced the actual judges' decision. The program proved to be of unusual interest and the club members voted to hold another such program in the near future.

Dr. Hamilton Boyd, Jr., was welcomed as a new member of the Lions Club.

It was announced that a bowling match will be held Sunday, February 6, with the Hudson Lions Club.

Captain Andrew S. Hickey gave a short talk on the coming 50th anniversary of the Kingston library.

Next week's program will have Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman, the well-known bandmaster, as speaker.

Mansion House Has Break

The apartment building at Broadway and West Strand formerly known as the Mansion House was left without lights last night due to a break in the water system, which flooded a section of the structure. Candles were used by residents last night after electricity had been cut off due to the water-line trouble, and the downtown branch of the post office on the lower floor of the structure, was also without light last night and today.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Jan. 25—Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Elmendorf, accompanied by Mrs. John Adels and son, Wolfgang, recently motored to Pittsfield, Mass., where they called on relatives.

Mrs. Lemuel Brown, whose funeral was held in Kingston last Friday, had a number of friends and relatives in the reservoir country where she resided in earlier life. The former Mary C. Bush was born and brought up in the Winchell's Falls neighborhood of Brown's Station.

The Rev. Dow McBain, Phoenicia clergyman, who is supplying the pulpits of the three churches of the Ashokan M. E. charge, preaches sound Bible sermons which are much appreciated by the congregations. Dominic McBain, though 73 years of age and on the retired list, is conducting three services each Sunday pending the conference appointment of a regular pastor to the local charge.

Business callers in the hub of the reservoir country last week included Charles Shultz of Kingston who is a native of Chichester. Eva B. Fenfield, who died at Woodside, L. I., January 17 and was buried in the Woodstock Cemetery, was born in Olive and for a time was a member of the office staff of the Board of Water Supply.

The population growth in this section during the past two months is reflected in a greatly increased attendance at the Sunday morning services of the Shokan Reformed Church.

Birthdays on Tuesday, Jan. 25, include that of the Rev. Walter White, Kingston clergyman who has preached in Shokan and other Olive communities upon a number of occasions.

The attendance of basketball fans at the Ashokan Aoms-Grahamville game set a record for the game, and Thursday the Stone

Larry Bloom and Orchestra
Return for Hospital Dance

Larry Bloom and his popular Michael Zarin orchestra from the Flamingo Room of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York City, will return to Kingston, Saturday evening, February 5, to play for the annual mid-winter dance sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingston Hospital. The dance will be held in the Governor Clinton Hotel.
Mrs. Parker K. Brinnier and Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb, co-chairmen have announced the following committees: Mrs. R. Frederic Chidsey, publicity; Mrs. J. A. Hathmaker, dance treasurer; Mrs. N. Levan Haver, music; Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Mrs. Holcomb and Mrs. Brinnier, tickets.
Larry Bloom, a former resident of Kingston, was engaged for last year's dance, and his popularity has warranted a return for this year's benefit affair. Mr. Bloom is considered to be one of the best American authorities on Latin American music. He has been working with the Zarin orchestra for two and a half years.
Bloom plays the saxophone, clarinet, violin and also writes the arrangements which have made the Michael Zarin orchestra so popular at the hotel and over the Mutual Broadcasting company program which they do twice weekly.
Prior to his present work, he was with the Bol Grant and the Hillegard Show at the Plaza; Max Berger at the Versaille; the Sea Bright Yacht Club; with Emory Deutsch at the Roney Plaza Hotel in Miami Beach; The Stork Club, Havana Madrid, The Carnival and many other places.
Decca recordings have been made of his arrangements of the tumba, tango and samba.

New Clinic Functions
Discussed by Group
At Kingston Hospital

An outline of functions of the new tumor clinic were discussed by Dr. J. Spottiswood Taylor at the regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Kingston Hospital Tuesday afternoon. The clinic will be used for diagnosis and treatment. Dr. Taylor pointed out and because of the expensive modern equipment and highly trained personnel it will not be a free clinic entirely. It is expected to be opened in July.
Dr. Taylor pointed out that the new building which is nearing completion will be the "last word" and still more important, no expense has been spared to get the best equipment possible for deep therapy and diagnostic material.
In addition to the locality's own adequately trained medical personnel, there will be a part time consultant from Memorial Hospital, New York City, and a full time highly trained radiologist and radio therapist, Dr. Taylor reported.
The clinic, while owned and operated by the board of supervisors, will have its management and policies controlled by the medical staff. Some free work will be done but charges will be made for those who can afford to pay. Although the clinic is for Ulster County, Dr. Taylor said that people in the surrounding territory would make use of the clinic.
A short business meeting was held by the auxiliary when arrangements for the annual mid-winter dance, February 5, were discussed. Tea was served by Mrs. Robert Herzog and Mrs. Kenneth LeFever.

ENGAGEMENT RING FOR MAN

A young woman, who says she very much wants to give her fiancé an engagement ring, asks: "Is it unsuitable for a girl to buy such a ring for her fiancé the way she does a wedding ring for him later? If not, then what kind of ring should it be?"
Certainly she may give him a ring if she would like to. A seal ring or gypsy hoop could be equally suitable.
Hard-Pressed to Answer
Dear Mrs. Post: If a friend appears to be wearing a lovely dress I think is most unbecoming to her, what can I say if she asks frankly, "Don't you just love this in me?"
Answer: "It is a lovely dress" would satisfy both your friend and your own sense of truth. But if she presses for an answer as to its becomingness, I don't see what else you can say except repeat the fact of its prettiness.
"Thank You for Calling."
Dear Mrs. Post: Why is it that so many people will say, "Thank you for calling" at the end of a conversation on the telephone and yet would not say, "Thank you for coming" when saying good-bye to a visitor?
Answer: Although on occasion one does tell someone, "Thank you for coming to see me," I agree that one does far more often say, "Thank you for calling" on the telephone—probably to make up for the lack of a handshake and a smile.
Trimming on Street Dress
Dear Mrs. Post: Does headed or sequin design on the blouse of a dress make it unsuitable for daytime wear on the street?
Answer: No, unless there is a conspicuous amount of it.
Bridal Table Toast
Dear Mrs. Post: When a toast at the bridal table is drunk to the bride and groom, does the groom remain seated, too?
Answer: Yes.
Mrs. Post's booklet, No. 503, "The Etiquette of Service," gives three classifications of table service: First, the formal of European service; second, American service; third, no-table service. # POUGHKEEPSIE STOPS K.H.S. STREAK, 31-26

Blues' Defense Shackles Maroon To Halt Victory Skein at 43

At precisely 5:27 p. m., Tuesday, Jan. 25, 1949, a magnificent Kingston High School basketball era came to an end in the stuffy, jump-packed supercharged Poughkeepsie High School gym.

The basketball historians who witnessed the contest will argue forever whether the score was 31-24 or 31-26, but it was Poughkeepsie High's inspired quintet on the long end as Kingston's 43-game winning streak was shattered in a defensive classic.

The official records will carry the score as 31-24, but young George Palmateer, Poughkeepsie sports editor says it was 31-26. The incident that created the mixup in the score and may have had a profound psychological effect on the Maroon cagers occurred near the end of a bristling third quarter when it was still anybody's ball game.

Kias Misses Game

All the drama in this historical reversal which some day may be referred to as "The Battle of the Lost Basket" was not confined to the frenzied atmosphere of that sweltering gym.

Coach G. Warren Kias, the master builder of basketball champions, who had nursed the string through three seasons couldn't attend the game because of illness.

Like many other Kingstonians, he had to sweat it out at home. His assistant Bill Hurley was in command of the Maroon squad.

The defeat was the first for Kingston since Liberty High turned the trick 41-35 early in the 1946-47 campaign. The 26 points represented Kingston's lowest total since early in the 1945-46 season.

The "Lost Basket"

It seems inconceivable that a basket could be lost in the shuffle of a low-scoring game like 31-26, but that's what happened. Kofie Chambers fumbled under for a layup and somehow in that mass of hysterics and confusion neither of the two "official scorers" noticed it. Chuck Mealey announced it over WKIP in his play-by-play broadcast.

Douw Meyers Jr., the Kingston scorer and the young man checking for Poughkeepsie, didn't see it. At least it never got into the record books. Palmateer and two other scorers saw the basket and duly recorded it. One of the dissenting trio was an assistant coach at P.H.S.

Be that as it may, the victory was a monumental achievement for Coach Sam Kallioh. The trident, corpulent, Village City mentor had trailed Kingston throughout the season and had built up a masterful defense against Ronnie Scheffel and "Champ" Holstein.

Twins Shackled

The brilliant, scoring twins who had been averaging better than 30 points a game were shackled to a mere 10. Joe Lewis, a left hander was pitted against Holstein and stopped "Champ's" southpaw jump shots cold.

Shortly before the rhubarb occurred Poughkeepsie had moved from a 16-14 halftime lead to a 20-15 edge on baskets by Vince Sucato and Walt Glode. Ronnie Scheffel's first deuce had cut Poughkeepsie's lead from 16-12 to 16-14 a few seconds before the half ended.

Kingston rallied with two minutes to go when Mort Gazlay went under and Rienzo scored on a layup to cut the lead to 20-19. Kofie Chambers' basket apparently had put Kingston ahead 21-20 but for reasons that probably never can be explained young Meyers and his Poughkeepsie associate didn't see it.

The Reckless

Instead of a 21-20 Kingston lead it was still 20-19 Poughkeepsie and with 30 seconds to go Ray Cordello dribbled almost the distance of the court for a driving layup and a 22-19 margin for the home cagers. Lewis' foul and McKeowen's deuce made it 25-20 shortly after the fourth quarter opened. From there on out it was all P.H.S.

Time was called while the officials and scorers checked the books. Despite the huddle Chambers' basket was never officially established, although three neutral scorers and Healy had called the shot. Meyers was replaced by Al Gruner as "official" scorer at this point.

From then on Kingston's fortunes began to recede as if they had reached an insurmountable plateau. They managed only one deuce by Ronnie Scheffel in the fourth period. Poughkeepsie picked up four baskets—two by Glode and once each by McKeowen and Cordello.

Lewis Big Star

McKeowen was Poughkeepsie's high scorer with 10 points, but it

Sports Bulletin!

The Sickler-Liberty game scheduled tonight at the municipal auditorium has been canceled because of bad travelling conditions.

was Lewis' defensive work that really sparked the Blues. Assigned to the task of stopping Holstein's jump shots, he did a thorough job. He had the advantage of the small court and when Holstein started up with his left handers, the speedy Negro guard went up with him, generally on the ball, and the two players would come crashing off the mats against the wall near the baskets.

The pressure that had been visible in Kingston's last three outings was evident from the outset. The Maroon had plenty of opportunities to score but couldn't hit. On the other hand, Poughkeepsie with its limited weapons, was keyed up all the way. They stayed with the Maroon through the hair-raising play up to the "lost basket" incident and thereafter had things pretty much their own way.

Thus one of the state's great all-time high school basketball winning streaks has come to an end. The next game is a fresh start for the gallant Maroon troupe.

It was ironical, too, that this most prized of all Hudson Valley basketball victories was achieved by the Duso League's famed Prodigal Son—Coach Sam J. Kallioh—who took that long walk many years ago and has never seen fit to return to the family. In Kingston, however, he has always found a haven.

Clintons Defeated By Millbrook Five

Governor Clinton Hotel led the Millbrook Giants for a period, 15-14, and tied 28-28 at halftime, but a last period spurt enabled the Dutchess cagers to hang up a decisive 60-45 victory last night at the Lincoln gym in Poughkeepsie.

Irv Jackson sparked the winners with 20 points. D. Fitzgerald led the Clintons with 14 and Chappie Van Derzee accounted for 10.

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE PIANO

Bagatelles:

That celebrated man of many words, Ernest A. "Duke" Landgraf recently achieved his dream of converting the North Atlantic League into an all-Pennsylvania circuit, but appears to have once again put his foot into it. . . . A recent directive from the office of George Trautman, boss of baseball's minor leagues, takes exception to Landgraf's announcement that all Peekskill players were free agents. Peekskill was the last New York state club to go. Mr. Trautman said he knew nothing of the Peekskill deal and has ordered the Duke to report for a "consultation." It's going to be tough on loquacious Landgraf just sitting there while Trautman does all the talking.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

If Newburgh fans are discouraged by Academy athletic failures, think of the poor Liberty followers. The Redskins, a perennial powerhouse in DUSO basketball have gone only "5 for 0" to date. . . . Considering the difficulty Sam Kallioh encounters, trying to line up basketball and football schedules, wouldn't you think it's about time corpulent Sam came back to the DUSO family. . . . Chuck Healy, WKIP sportscaster who did that neat job on the K.H.S.-P.H.S. game yesterday, has been signed by NBO and assigned to its Buffalo station. . . . A man is tallest between the ages of 35 and 40. He shrinks slightly after that. What are you doing these days? . . . Never run to a fire. If it's worth seeing, you don't have to hurry.

Hartwick College, winner of 9 games in 11 starts had a mild scare a few days ago when an anonymous telephone call warned Coach Harold Bradley not to use Milton Garfield, sensational 17-year-old freshman basketball star against Lycoming. The coach said the caller warned that Garfield was "not to be used in the Lycoming game and if he appeared, he would never play again." Police investigation disclosed nothing except that it probably was a schoolboy prank.

Hail, the Unsung Heroes:

That crew of lithe, muscular, agile, young men who put on that dazzling gymnastic exhibition at the high school game last Friday are real unsung heroes of K.H.S. They receive no letters, practice on their own time during the noon hour and respond to several calls for their exhibitions. There is nothing thrilling about parallel bars, hand balancing and tumbling unless you like it. And you have to like it to devote your own time to it. These kids do and they enjoy it to the hilt. In the meantime they are building strong, resilient bodies that will stand them in good stead later in life.

The Mayor of Cat Hiller says New York farmers sowed 420,000 acres of winter wheat last fall, a decrease of eight per cent compared with the fall of 1947. . . . There was no noticeable decline in the wild on crop. . . . If you are one of the folks building a home, don't worry if the work goes slowly. Solomon took 42 years to build his temple and he had 700 wives—quite a few lady friends to help with suggestions.

Jake Chichelsky's Chatter:

We think Joe Martin of Cy's Diner has one of the smoothest deliveries in the Hudson Valley League. . . . Tony Mack is burning up the planks. . . . Fred Rice says Mack was in the pocket solidly for 19 out of his first 20 shots against Wiltwycks Sunday. Harry Withers has a good enough working ball to be in the majors, and why doesn't father-in-law Ad Jones do something about it. . . . He can roll on that "Blue Room Special" and we're not needing anybody on that squad. . . . How about inviting your sponsor to your next match?

The nation's most consistent basketball team is that of Rewey, Wis. High. It has lost 84 straight.

Reiff Predicts Stiff 2-Mile Race

New York, Jan. 26 (UP)—"The two miles Saturday night will be a very tight race," said Gaston Reiff, Belgium's Olympic 5,000 meter champion, looking forward to his American track debut in the Millrose games.

Can he win it? Reiff isn't saying, even in his halting broken English, spoken with questionable help from Paul de Saedeleer, Belgian Olympic coach.

"But I'll be ready," the 28-year-old balding, blond foot-racer told newsmen. "If I don't win this week, maybe next week."

In the two-mile run at Madison Square Garden Saturday night, Reiff will start against Erik Ahlsten of Sweden, Curtis Stone of Philadelphia, Fred Wil of New York and Bob Black of Rhode Island state.

Other foreign stars to appear in the Millrose games are Ingvar Bengtsson of Sweden and Willy

Mickey Russo, Barneson, Keith Headline Thursday Boxing Card

Kayo Puncher

MICKEY RUSSO

The pride of Highland, Mickey Russo, lightweight with a sock in either hand, will be in one of the five-round scraps on B'nai B'rith card at the municipal auditorium Thursday night. He's matched with Jimmy Hall, Buffalo Golden Glover. Two weeks ago he stopped Chief Davidson of Canada.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Cliff Hart, 148, Syracuse, outpointed Jimmy Sanders, 148, Pittsburgh, 10.

Brooklyn (Broadway Arena)—Joe Miceli, 138, New York, outpointed Johnny Larusso, 138½, New York, 8.

Ace Ring Prospects Face Tough Foes

Indications are that there will be a capacity crowd of boxing fans at the municipal auditorium Thursday night to encourage Bill Singer and his new B'nai B'rith committee in charge of promoting the sport for the club.

Singer, who replaces Dr. Saul Goldfarb, has a seven-hour card arranged, featuring Buffalo Golden Gloves champions against the cream of the amateur crop of the Adirondack district.

Scrappers from this area are billed to appear, too, and their followers are expected to help jam the auditorium.

Leonard Miller, ticket chairman, reported today that orders for reserved ringside seats are being received at an encouraging rate, auguring a capacity attendance. Miller now holds the position formerly occupied by Dr. Murray Greene.

"All we have to hope for is good weather," said Miller this morning as the skies dropped a powdery snow on Kingston. "If the roads are good, there should be a lot of fans from out of town at the show," he advised.

Miller pointed out that orders for tickets began to pour in after announcement that George Lampshire would have three Buffalo Golden Glovers on the card in the five round bouts.

Lampshire, who handles both amateur and professional boxers, will come to Kingston with Ernie Keith, middleweight champion, who has a record of 16 knockouts; Jimmy Hall, 147-pound Golden Glover and Johnny Lester, another classy 148-pounder.

Mickey Russo, Highland knock-out puncher, represents the Hudson valley area on the card and is expected to draw in many from southern Ulster county and Poughkeepsie.

Five round bouts on the card are:

Dick Tuttle, Gloversville vs. Ernie Keith, Buffalo, middleweights.

Sid Barneson, Canaan vs. Johnny Lester, Buffalo, welters.

Mickey Russo, Highland vs. Jimmy Hall, Buffalo, welters.

Harry Smith, Berksire vs. Rufus Rodgers, Albany, featherweights.

There will be three three-round preliminaries. In one of them Kingston's Tony Muccio, who made his debut with a knockout victory, is matched with Bobby Reid, Canaan novice middleweight. Another will pit Pat Fusaro of Singersville against a featherweight from Albany. Starting time is 9:00 o'clock.

Danbury, Conn.—Jim Brau, 161, Norwalk, stopped Sid Miller, 162, Youngstown, O., 4.

Wiltwycks Drub Village Rest, 57-40, To Tie for First in Y.M.C.A. League

Sports of the Day

(By The Associated Press)

Powered by Bob Slicker, who scored 21 points for the second consecutive game, Wiltwyck Motors trampled Village Rest, 57-40, last night at the Y to tie for first place with 7th Ward and set the stage for Saturday's championship playoff.

Both clubs have records of 6 wins and 1 loss. Slicker hit eight times from scrimmage and had singletons as Wiltwycks took command early and were front running 31-19 at halftime.

Parslow and McElrath scored nine apiece for the winners, while Petruski's 13 markers led the Villagers.

Clark Maines' 18 points and 16 by George Bloom highlighted the decisive victory. Riggins tossed in 11 for the Comets.

Plan Harness Racing At Yonkers Track

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—A group of New York businessmen is ready to pay $2,400,000 for the idle Empire City track at Yonkers and spend another $1,250,000 getting it ready for night harness racing.

George F. Breen, a spokesman for the syndicate known as Algam, said last night, "we expect to complete the deal this week."

The mile track has been idle since 1943 when wartime restrictions on traveling and gasoline forced it to close.

The Empire City Racing Association, which has been holding its meetings at Jamaica since that date, is expected to build a new plant in the Bronx and be ready to go by late 1950.

According to reports which the association has not verified or denied, Empire has bought an 86-block area in the upper Bronx for $900,000.

Breen announced he expected operations at the Yonkers track to start around June 1.

City Boys Club Is To Open Building To Public Jan. 27

The official opening of the new Kingston Boys Club headquarters at 139 Greenkill avenue will be held tomorrow, Thursday, January 27.

Public inspection of the new quarters, which have been re-decorated and furnished by the members of the club, is invited on that day, according to Alexander S. Fuhrman, club director. Among those expected to visit the building Thursday are Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and Aldermen James E. Martin of the Twelfth Ward, Fuhrman said.

In connection with the opening, a meeting of the executive board of the club will be held.

Acquisition of this former private dwelling has been termed by Fuhrman as "our first major step in getting somewhere." It was made possible by the Junior League, which has paid the rent for six months. The transaction was arranged through Mann and Gross, local realty firm.

The building will be open daily from 3 until 9 p. m., all day on Saturdays and during the afternoon only on Sundays. A complete schedule of activities will begin February 1.

In the basement of the building a well-equipped workshop has been installed. Other rooms include a kitchen, a game room with ping pong table, a music room, office, art room and a small meeting room. All the work in re-decorating and equipping the building, with the exception of electrical work, was done by the boys who are members of the club.

The present schedule of activities includes a music study group under the supervision of Roy Nickerson, art and craft groups under Fuhrman, three stamp clubs, chess club, ping pong tournaments and outdoor sports groups.

The barn at 21 Clinton avenue, formerly the club headquarters, has been retained by the club for summer activities, but cannot be used during winter months because it cannot be heated. Fuhrman said. Rent for the barn has been paid by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association.

The Kingston Boys Club was founded two years ago by Fuhrman, primarily to benefit the boys who used Barmann Park before that park was sold for industrial use. The club operates without aid from the city or other official agencies and the boys are not charged membership fees. It is financed through voluntary contributions by citizens and groups in the city.

At present the membership is about 65 boys, which according to Fuhrman is the maximum number which can be accommodated with present facilities.

Fire Chief Asks

responded to 522 alarms during 1948. Of these 56 were bell alarms, 555 telephone, and 28 false.

The report listed 19 "investigations after fire had been extinguished, five calls out of the city, 43 emergency calls, 28 verbal reports of fire and 21 instances in which there were no causes for alarm. The increase in fire calls was only seven above that of 1947.

Fire loss per capita in 1948 was 0.95 and the per capita loss in 1947 was 0.87.

A detailed report showing more than 50 causes for fires, listed 147 grass, rubbish and brush fires, 66 in autos, trucks and buses, 37 due to oil burners out of adjustment, 14 dump fires, 16 chimney fires, ten due to lighted cigarettes, and four due to children playing with matches.

43 Emergency Calls

The firemen, said the report, also answered 43 emergency calls, including 14 requests for assistance in getting cats out of trees, only two for persons overcome by illuminating gas. Two of the most unusual were for "bird caught behind shelf in store," and "girl fell off motor boat."

Under the heading "Insurance on Buildings and Contents Involved in Fire," the report shows $404,800 insurance on mercantile buildings with a fire loss of $9,534.59.

Insurance on contents in mercantile buildings was $74,000 and the fire loss $3,780. The total in fire loss on buildings and contents was $13,315.28.

Insurance on resident buildings involved in fires was $170,200 with a fire loss of $11,416.15 on buildings. Insurance on contents was $27,950, and the fire loss was $3,774, making a total on both buildings and contents $15,190.15, and the total fire loss on all buildings and contents was $28,503.43.

The chief's report made note of the fact that "Deputy Fire Chief James M. Brett is credited with one rescue. The rescue was effected at a fire on Oct. 11, 1948 at 578 Delaware avenue. Deputy Brett rescued Mrs. Donovan from her bedroom, which was heavily charged with smoke. If Mrs. Donovan had remained in her room a few minutes longer, she would have died from suffocation."

The chief extended thanks to officers and members of "the paid fire force for their efficient work and cooperation; and for voluntarily offering their services in emergencies without thought of receiving the back time."

The report showed 790 inspections made of mercantile buildings, 803 "public assembly," and 155 complaints investigated, and 423 rubbish burning permits issued.

Only 611 building permits were issued in 1948 as against 623 in 1947, but the increase in estimated cost of construction was $176,488.50 last year. Of permits issued 85 were for non-residential, 58 for new residential, 209 for additions, alterations and repairs on residences, 69 for the same on non-residential buildings and 130 for oil burners and fuel tanks.

Estimated cost of new residential construction was $506,350; non-residential, $592,120; for alterations, etc., on residential $162,318, the same on non-residential $158,710 and $50,397, oil burners and fuel tanks.

"To the officers and members of the volunteer companies," the report said, "I am deeply indebted for their unselfish and loyal service. The volunteer service is 300 years old and it is with extreme pleasure that I can report that the volunteer firemen of Kingston have carried on and are still rendering this wonderful service in a very efficient manner. I want the volunteer companies to know that I am thankful for the honors bestowed upon me in the past year, but the one gift that I appreciate most is their friendship and their loyal cooperation."

The report concluded with the chief's thanks to Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, the president and members of the Board of Fire Commissioners, the Common Council, the various city departments, and the citizens of Kingston "for their cooperation during the past year."

Volunteers to Name Committees for Year

Committees for this year's Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association convention to be held in Kingston this summer will be appointed Thursday night during the annual meeting of the Volunteer Firemen's Association. The meeting will be held in the club rooms of the Cornell and Rescue Fire Companies, Abbot street, at 8 o'clock.

Peter Keresman, who is chairman of convention plans, will appoint his committees during Thursday's session, it was announced today.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be the election of officers for the year's association. All delegates are requested to attend.

A social hour will follow the business meeting.

Although young walrus are covered with pale brown hair, the old animals are almost completely hairless.

Excelsiors Will

pany said today, however, that a celebration will be held with a parade and general turnout of membership when the pumper is officially received by the company.

Alderman Martin stressed the points he had made in his letter requesting transfer of the apparatus, when he appeared before the commissioners last night. He emphasized the elevation of outlying streets in the uptown area and the constant growth of the more recently developed residential sectors in the 12th Ward.

Another point made by the alderman was that the need will undoubtedly be greater for extra equipment in the uptown area during the construction work on the Broadway crossing elimination project.

The bid for transfer of the pumper to the Excelsior engine house was entirely on his own initiative, the alderman indicated. The apparatus, formerly known as Engine No. 3, had been stationed at the Wiltwyck fire station. It was rebuilt by the fire department mechanic through use of other parts owned by the department, after it was wrecked in an accident at the Broadway crossing. It has been used as a spare unit at central station for some time.

The chief, in his annual report, recommended that all apparatus now in use by the volunteer companies be replaced on a yearly budget plan.

The truck currently at the Excelsior engine house is a combination of hose and booster equipment. The chief said it will probably be transferred temporarily to central station as a spare unit. It has been in use for more than a decade.

Alderman Martin's resolution on the fire alarm box in the Murphy street, area, resulted of a petition of residents there late last year.

Baby Sales Probed

Providence, R. I., Jan. 26 (AP)—Police and health authorities are investigating the sale of babies for prices ranging as high as $1,000. The investigation, police said, stemmed from the attempted fraudulent birth registration of a baby allegedly sold to a Providence woman to a Bronx, N. Y., couple. Detective Lieut. J. H. Healey and Dr. Joseph Smith, city registrar and superintendent of health, said the Bronx couple purchased the baby for $1,000.

U. S. Steel Stock Jumps

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp. common stock jumped $3.37 a share to $76.25 today after a long delay while buyers and sellers reached agreement on a price. The ticker tape reported the transaction about 35 minutes after the opening gong sounded in the exchange. The sale involved 15,000 shares. The difficulty was caused by a rush of buying orders and an inadequate number of orders to sell.

David Moses Buys Catskill Landmark

David Moses of this city has purchased The Smith Arms Hotel, one of the oldest landmarks in Catskill, the Catskill Daily Mail said yesterday.

The local man bought the property from the Strand Holding Corp., which had operated the hotel for three years with Theodore J. Friedman as manager. Final title to the property awaits approval of the state liquor authority on transfer of the liquor license, the newspaper said.

The hotel was formerly known as The Smith House. Extensive improvements had been made after it was acquired by the Strand Holding Corp.

Von Papen Is Freed

Nuernberg, Germany, Jan. 26 (AP)—Franz von Papen, the old fox of diplomacy in Hitler's Reich, was set free today by a German denazification court. The court reversed his previous conviction as a major Nazi offender, the worst type of Nazi, under which he was serving an eight year sentence in a labor camp. It convicted him of being only an offender, the second category of Nazism. Von Papen, Hitler's former ambassador to Austria and Turkey, has been imprisoned since the end of the war. The court, in ordering his immediate release, held this was enough punishment.

men were released, the troopers said.

State Police said that more than 50 of the defendants who were taken into custody were from the state of New Jersey, a few from Newburgh, Poughkeepsie and Marlborough.

The 71 defendants were charged with disorderly conduct and on entering pleas of guilty before Justice Woolsey fines of from $10 to $50 were imposed, the amount of the fine being determined by whether the defendant had been previously convicted.

At Highland, State Police reported the fines collected totaled $240.

$2,260 Is Seized

From craps tables in the place and from other devices which were in operation at the time of the raid, state police seized $2,260 in cash.

It is understood the place had been under observation for some time and at 12:30 o'clock this morning a dozen troopers from Farmdale, Wurtsboro, Lake Katine, Phoenixia, Highland and a detachment from Sidney under command of Capt. Gay and Lieut. Lawson swooped down on the place.

State Police reported the place was well guarded with electrical devices and men were stationed both outside and inside the place as guards. When orders to open up were ignored, State Police broke into the building which had been surrounded to prevent any of the occupants from escaping.

The farm on which the building is located is owned by Vetto Sacco and is known as The Villa. The raid was made on a building separate from the hotel premises and State Police said Sacco was absent from the premises when the raid was made. It is alleged by the police that the building which was the target for the raid had been rented from Sacco.

Paraphernalia in the building was seized and destroyed. Among the devices seized and destroyed were two large craps tables located in two rooms, pin ball machines and other elaborately fitted out equipment. In the building was a fully equipped cafeteria.

A.P. Survey Shows

commodities vary widely between communities.

In some areas specific food items cost more than they did a year ago. In other communities the same items cost a lot less.

Some of the price changes come as a surprise to the consumer.

For instance, in Chicago, the nation's meat packing center, retail prices of a leg of lamb and chopped steak are above a year ago. In cities far from the packing center those items have declined.

In the coastal cities of San Francisco, Seattle and Boston an overall decline has been less noticeable.

The largest single drop in a single article is in New York, where chopped steak (the U. S. No. 1 variety) fell from an average 85 cents a pound last January to 49 cents this month—a decline of 36 cents.

But a New York butcher commented: "It was meat from better-fed cattle that was being chopped up a year ago."

GISIANO'S

PORT EWEN

We feel sincerely proud that the Ulster County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has selected Gisiano's for its annual March of Dimes Ball. No flourishing oratory or high strung appeals are necessary to impress you with the altruistic work performed by this organization. We hope the culmination of this yearly appeal finds millions of dimes marching in perfect cadence toward the goal of perfect health for the afflicted. Saturday, January 29 is the date.

The regular gang will be on hand to entertain you. In addition to Johnny Michaels' Orchestra, which will play for dancing, we are happy to announce the presentation of Charles Sorce. Here's a young man with a tenor voice; an original member of the famous Horn & Hardart Hour over NBC. He's appeared on several radio network programs, and during the war entertained troops overseas with a USO troupe. This is only one of the surprises. If you can't attend, listen to the broadcast over WKNY.

Definition Is Asked

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—The Legislature has been asked to define the rights of a child born as a result of artificial insemination. Senator Louis L. Friedman, Brooklyn Democrat, introduced a bill yesterday to provide that a child born to a married woman by such means, where the father has given written consent, shall be recognized legally as a natural child of the parents. He said the measure would prevent a husband from depriving the child of its right of support and inheritance in what Friedman labeled "an attempt to escape from his just legal obligations."

Detroit Free Press To Issue Its Own Cards to Newsmen

Detroit, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Detroit Free Press will issue its own identification cards to its newsmen.

It will do so as "the only judge" of the rights of its reporters and photographers to represent the paper, according to a statement of policy.

At the same time the Free Press said its newsmen could do as they liked about Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy's order that applications for police press cards must contain non-Communist affidavits.

The Detroit Times and News, the other large daily papers here, have made no objection to Toy's order. The Free Press' statement came last night from Executive Editor Basil L. Walters, who is chairman of the World Freedom of the Press Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. Commissioner Toy said he ordered the non-Communist affidavits in the interest of national defense.

The Free Press, Walters said, does not recognize Toy's order as a "licensing provision" and will insist on its reporters' rights to access "at all times" to public records.

Coincidentally Publisher James S. De Laurier of the Hammond (Ind.) Times announced he would sign a non-Communist affidavit and would ask his workers to do likewise.

De Laurier said he was only concerned with "denying Communists or fellow travelers access to police records or confidential information in time of war."
